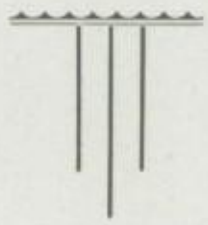
THE

BEXLEY HIGH TORCH



SENIOR NUMBER

JUNE, 1936

BEXLEY HIGH SCHOOL
BEXLEY, OHIO

YOUTH has of Sesame, of sorcery no need,
No magic key of noble blood or vaunted creed
To fling these portals wide.
Built from their patient forebears' staunch
Resolve with the same purpose that they launched
Their ships to new grim shores, and plied
Their labors for futurity. To enter here, youth
Needs naught but a willing spirit and a quest for truth.
The portals stand forever open — none is denied.

TO BEXLEY

OUR reluctant feet are turning
From a labor just begun;
To a world aloof with knowledge
Of the battles to be won.

Mingled tears and laughter sway us
As we leave these friends so dear,
While your walls resound with echoes
Of our graduation cheer.

Though our loitering steps shall linger
Within these halls no more;
In our hearts we'll still remember
And be with you as of yore.

As you build your fine traditions
Throughout the years to come,
May we, the class of '36,
Feel we contribute some?

EILEEN HENNEY.

CLASS SONG

When the veil of time has shadowed
The eyes of memory,
Our hearts renew
The friendships true
That lie in reverie.
Then the heartaches long forgotten
Live in bitter-sweetened tears,
And the hopes we kept
O'er our sorrows swept
Down through the years.
Yet we know the friends we've made
Will forever be an aid
'Gainst the weary hours of loneliness to be;
Though we meet no more
Still in mem'ry's store
They will cheer us constantly.

Elizabeth McKeever.
Bob Minor.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF '36

THE following document, duly signed and sealed by the class of 1936, is hereby reproduced in full; thereby expressing the last wishes and sentiments of that honored body, to wit:

We, the class of '36, being of unaccountably sane mind and body, do hereby declare and ordain our last wishes in this, our will. We do bestow herein, the traditional first floor corridor west lockers to the class of '37. (If anyone finds a green four-inch pencil herein, please remit to Chuck Morris.)

We do donate our little brass home room tags to the Bath Club, in case they ever go into the suit rental line.

We do bequeath our joint penknife to our dear friend, Mr. Tipton, to lend to such thoughtless seniors as choke the pencil sharpeners with mutilated half-inch stubs.

We do remit to Miss Hamann, globe-trotter, our favorite ear-muffs to reduce (for her sake) home room bedlam.

We do impart to Miss Selbach, a box of pencils for the exclusive use of editors only.

We do surrender our crude haircuts (fuzz-nog style) to Mr. Schacht. We hope he appreciates our thoughtfulness.

We do cede to Miss Fuge two copies of every book to relieve her of the necessity of standing at the library door "en garde."

We do grant to Mrs. Brightman a stable of "ponies" to donate to Latin students who have been forced to borrow them heretofore.

We do ordain that Miss Thomas shall receive the latest volume on the exposure of forgery. 'Nuff said.

We do donate to Miss Mullins an absolute necessity—three new exits for the music room stage.

Several members of the dear departed have requested a few personal donations:

I, George Offenberg, will my remaining 143 detentions to Phyllis Stacy: she has none now and shows not the least promise for the future.

I, Francis Higgins, grant my claim to Kay Huntington's affections to anyone who can do better than I.

I, Orleta Swackhamer, impart my three and seven-eighths inch name to Ruth Wolfe. Her name could stand a little lengthening.

I, William Barnes, bestow my French anecdotes to Robert Startzman, providing he tells no more Lithuanian stories.

I, Phyllis Engler, grant seventeen wilted corsages and fourteen broken dates to any promising candidate.

I, John Hills, bequeath my birthday tie, the red one with yellow blotches, to Dick Price to harmonize with that plaid shirt he wears—and wears!

I, Eileen Henney, leave to all who wish to depart from boring home room periods the system of parking one's car in front of the truck driveway.

I, Robert Stevens, hand down my permanent hall permit for "Torch" work to Bob Young (courtesy of Miss Hamann).

I, Arthur Magnuson, present my basketball shoes to my brother William. They lasted four years and should be good for four more.

I, Bob Chaney, pass on my system of giving flowers to my fond mother—on her charge account. (Around first of the month, this will succeed exceptionally well.)

I, your scribe, do will this task next year to whomever ye ed can catch.

Dutifully signed,

President—Bill Sodt
Vice President—Bill Sharp
Secretary—Diantha Woltz

I'll Be Torcherin' You—

CLASS PROPHECY

THIS is station WBEX, the Linville Antiseptic Company, manufacturers of the hair tonic familiar to you by its slogan, "Long and Lustrous Locks." We are broadcasting over the Wright-Deckard network from our studios atop the Rutherford Brokerage Building.

We now take you to Bexley High School where our special announcers Bill Barnes and Bill Sharp will bring you an account of the reunion of the class of 1936. Your announcer has been Dick Pricer. Take it away, Bills.

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. We are speaking to you from the lobby of Bexley High School where are gathered numerous personalities familiar to our national audience celebrating the fifteenth anniversary of their graduation from these portals.

The lilting melody in the background is the theme of "Scat Joseph and His Mellowdiers" with "Caliph Callif" doing the vocals.

And speaking of vocals, two of this season's Metropolitan stars have just arrived, William MacDonald and Mrs. Dayton Henceroth, the former Elizabeth McKeever. Mr. Henceroth, we understand, was delayed in New York because of last-minute schedule difficulties in the Combined Artiste organization of which he is president.

In the nature of a "scoop" he has permitted us to announce that Miss Jane Walsh is returning to America next fall after a successful world tour in her adagio number. She will appear at the Chaney Theatre in New York along with the premiere of Bob Minor's characterization of his latest novel. Minor has just entered with Lloyd Riley, the screen's ace baritone and Jeanne Ruhl, Hollywood's latest "find."

Speaking of the screen, Mernie Hatch on the Livingston Lotus Lotion program, "Hatch's Snatches" announced last night that the new Grosvenor three-dimensional screen will be installed in most of the nation's leading theatres before next January. On the stages of the same chain, you will soon be seeing Gail Scheibel's latest operetta, "Hollyhock," which goes on the road this season under Herman Borchers' management. Miss Scheibel and Borchers flew in today with Miss Betty Whitehead, the nation's leading aviatrix and National Girl Scout Master.

Betty has told us that on her recent round-the-world flight she met Irene Ruth in the Gobi Desert. Miss Ruth is planning a lecture tour when she returns to the States. Sponsoring her engagement in Columbus will be Mrs. Charles Morris, Jane Isaly at Bexley High, who wedded the prominent caricaturist in 1943. You know, of course, that Mr. Morris illustrates Bob Stevens' daily New York column.

Mr. Stevens recently announced that Miss Eileen Henney, author of the latest "Book of the Month," is now entertaining Miss Ruth Cain, prominent socialite equestrienne, and Miss Alice Wheaton, famous dog fancier. Miss Henney's award was announced last week by Miriam Rosenthal, president of the Book of the Month club.

Miss Rosenthal is here today, and we see her chatting with two of the nation's better-known educators—Dr. Orleta Swackhamer, Ph.D., of the Horace Mann School in New York, and Marjorie Landrum, M.A., of the Helene Petti School in Massachusetts. By the way, Kathryn Mayer is the dramatics coach and Jane Bradshaw supervisor of the primary department at the latter exclusive establishment.

Also in an educational line are President Knies of Ohio State and President Shupe of Capital University, discussing, at the present, Professor Fromm's theory on the relativity of the universe. Along with Dr. Knies are his secretary, Betty Riffle, the new swimming instructress, Constance Bryant, and Coach Myers, who turned out the cream of the Big Ten crop last year.

Another celebrated swimmer here today is George Brownewell, who broke the hundred-yard free-style record in the Olympics last year. He is completing plans for the dedication of Bexley's new aquatorium this afternoon, at which he will preside with the assistance of several luminaries of the sport world from the class of '36.

Wrestling is ably represented by Don Hamilton, world's heavyweight champion. Ray Teegardin and Bob Bailey, who were instrumental in bringing the world's championship to the Detroit Tigers for the first time in sixteen years, are reminiscing with Neal Cahill and Gene Burgett of the Chicago Bears who starred in Bexley football in '36.

Clement Erlenbach, pro at the Los Angeles Santa Monica Country club, has made a special trip here to join the celebration.

Special arrangements have been made for the afternoon with Patricia Christie's "Pantriette" to furnish refreshments, and she has outfitted a little tea shop in a corner of the lobby here. Miss Christie, by the way, is assisted in the "Pantriette" by Lillian Cohen who acts as dietitian.

Phyllis Engler, "Marg" Hayes, and Mary Marget Brunner are evidently discussing the business of their chain of frock shops at a nearby table; Miss Brunner is their fashion designer and responsible for their chic styles, Miss Hayes is their Paris buyer, and Miss Engler general manager.

Also "tea-ed up" are Evelyn Brenning, Eloise Cook, and Mae Bland, who have apparently succeeded in their New York beauty salon.

Grace Ebert, local milliner, Diantha Woltz, proprietor of her own florist shop, and Margaret Munk, importer of furs, have forgotten business for the afternoon and have joined the "tea-totalers."

You can probably hear the flurry of excitement caused by the arrival of Governor Schneider of Ohio accompanied by Justice John Dupre Hills of the state Supreme Court. Two graduates, now members of Governor Schneider's cabinet, are in attendance—George Reight, commissioner of aeronautics, and James Barbee, state treasurer.

Also in politics from the class of '36 are Thomas Boulger, lawyer for the C. O. Walker advertising agency, who is now contemplating a campaign for attorney-general of Pennsylvania and Martha Jean Hickle, running for re-election to Congress. She is here this afternoon with her secretary, Dorothy Macklin.

Miss Hickle has received substantial support from Lawrence Essig, political writer for the Cleveland "Plain Dealer," here today with several of his colleagues: Miss Jeanne Nutter who writes "For the Four Hundred" fashion notes, Dorothy Bachman, society editor of the "Plain Dealer," and Louise Howell, feature writer for the Chicago "Daily News." Ted Schmueckle. United Press photographer, is camera-ing today's celebrities for tomorrow's papers.

The flash of gold braid and brass buttons has just caught our eye meaning that Col. Francis Higgins of the U. S. Engineering Corps has arrived. With him is Lyle Eesley, factory manager for Studebaker Motors. Betty Neutzling, incidentally, is secretary to the president of the same firm.

Speaking of braids and buttons, we see Miss Helen Blose of the "Kabie-Kay Kostumers" and Marjorie Yunker, who is newly of their staff of designers, discussing the new trend in stage costumes as typified by Ruth Pickering's sketches for W. F. Arnott's "Tut Suite" advertisements. You will remember Miss Blose's associates as Jeanne Kienzle and Martha Jane Koch.

Dr. George C. Miller has just informed us that Calvin Hamrick, who was severely injured in the coast-to-coast motorcycle races three weeks ago, is rapidly recovering under the care of Elizabeth Kreachbaum at the Mayo Clinic. Dr. Miller set the med-

THE year 1936 saw the completion of an impressive stadium on the athletic field in the rear of the high school building. Work had begun several years previous with the tiling of the field for drainage. As this year began, work was started on the stadium proper, a football field, a track, a baseball diamond, and tennis courts. With labor furnished by the federal government and materials procured by the school board, the work rapidly neared completion and brought to Bexley one of the most attractive stadiums in the state, and one which will handle the crowds at Bexley football games for many years to come.

THE HEAD LION TAMER

THE Lions of 1935-36 were not able to win a single major sport championship, and this marks the first year since 1930 that a major sport championship was not won. The football team was the usual high caliber club, and in the writer's opinion, was as good as Grandview and Westerville who tied for the championship; but they both beat us in the last minute of play. The Lions finished third; this is the first time they have been out of first place since the League was organized in 1930. They started out by beating St. Mary's 7-0 and tying a strong Wilmington team which had previously beaten South High 28-0. And then they walloped North 12-6, which was the first time any Bexley team had licked North in football. The season at this point was sure to be a success due to the North victory, although we did not win the Central Buckeye crown. The team was a wonderful defensive team but poor on offense.

Carlton H. Smith

The basketball team finished last for the first time in the history of the league. Occasionally they played like a great team but at other times were nosed out by very close scores, thereby claiming the hard luck record of all times and finishing with six wins and twelve losses.

The track team beat Circleville, Canal Winchester, and Groveport but were defeated by Westerville. However, they finished third in the League meet which is the lowest we have ever finished in the league.

The baseball team is only eclipsed by last year's fine team but promises to make a better record than that team. Having won four out of six now, it appears that only three or four games will be lost out of ten played.

The swimming team lost only one meet and that to Greenfield by a single point. However, in that meet two Bexley men were ill and undoubtedly the team would have been undefeated had they been able to take part.

The tennis team is above the average and is undefeated to date, although very few matches have been played because of inclement weather.

The golf team has won three and lost three to date and is a better than average foursome.

By glancing at the above records one can see that the Lions have been a little below par this year as judged by the excellent teams of foregoing years. However, if we judge by the record of other teams in the league, we find that only two or three had better all-around records this year. Also, besides football and basketball, we offer five spring sports, and no other C. B. L. school offers more than two. This would tend to weaken spring sports because of less concentration.

The boys who are returning next year to take the places of those who graduate appear to be worthy to carry the load, and, we hope, will bring Bexley back to the high plane of success she has experienced in the past.

FOOTBALL

AS A long line of seniors passes by, so passes nearly an entire football team—not an exceptional team, not a championship team—but a team whose one bright spot of glory was its sparkling defeat over an enemy who had never before been vanquished by a Bexley team.

The team to which we refer is the Lion team of 1935, and the enemy we recall is North High School. Although our team did not win the Central Buckeye championship, its record is better than it appears.

To open their season, the Lions knocked off St. Marys of Columbus, 7 to 0. While this is not an impressive score, it was against a team which greatly outdid itself.

In the next game the Lions battled through mud to a 0-0 tie with Wilmington.

One week later occurred the great victory to which we referred. Bexley rapidly reached its peak and defeated North, 12 to 6.

Entering their league season undefeated, they kept up their record in the first game against Marysville by winning, 6 to 0. Against Grandview, however, they suffered their first defeat, after battling even until the final two minutes. They fought to a 6-6 tie with Delaware and ran rough-shod over Circleville, 40 to 0.

In the league final Bexley trailed Westerville 7 to 0 until the last minute when they tied up the score. Then a tie was snatched away by a Westerville touchdown, and the Lions lost, 14-7. In the last game of the season, Bexley lost to Arlington, 25 to 0.

So, with a schedule of nine games, the Lions won four, tied two, and lost three, two of the losses coming by one touchdown, each in the last few minutes of play.

Captain Burgett of Bexley was placed on the mythical All-Greater Columbus and on the All-Central Buckeye teams. Neal Cahill was named captain of the All-Central Buckeye team and placed on the Greater Columbus second team.

BASKETBALL

ALTHOUGH the basketball team was not up to par this year, it did give every team it played a good fight. The record was six wins in 18 starts, but only four games were lost by more than four points.

Bob Bailey, who was captain, was ineligible for further play at the end of the first semester; but with this handicap he scored 89 points. Clement Erlenbach, who took his place, was another star. He tallied 94 points in the whole season and was fourth in the league scoring. He was also named guard on the All-Central Buckeye team. Other regular players were Gene Burgett, Paul Myers, Dayton Henceroth, Dick Hogan, and Finley Arnott. The team finished last in the league for the first time.

The Reserve team won the Reserve league championship and placed two men, K'node and McCoy, as the first two scorers in the league race.

Third row: McClure, Chesser, Richards, Don Hamilton, Earl Hamilton, Bloss, Wilke, Brownewell, manager.

BASEBALL

BEXLEY'S baseball squad this year showed a team which was on the whole very good. At times the infield would blow up in errors or the hitting would prove poor, but all of this was evened up by the times when the players showed big league form in both fielding and hitting.

Stanley Miller did a very creditable job of catching for the Lions. At pitch, Gene Burgett and Ray Gornall showed all kinds of speed and control. Dick Hogan performed admirably at first base, while Cahill and Myers or Borchers formed a good keystone combination. Bill Emig played at third. In the outfield the regular players were: Magee, left field; Teegardin, center field; and Hatch, right field.

As this was written, the Lions had won three games and lost two. They had defeated Mifflin 9 to 2, Gahanna Lincoln 4 to 3, and Groveport 9 to 7. They lost to North 9 to 6; and in the district tournament were eliminated in the first round by Aquinas, who defeated them 5 to 1. In this game the Lions allowed their opponents five runs in the first inning and then held them scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Second row: Coach Smith, Teegardin, Brooke, Henceroth, Sodt, Knode, Borchers.

TRACK

THE track team was fairly well balanced on the track but woefully weak in the field events. With only one letterman to start with, the team was built up from a batch of entirely new men. One great handicap was a lack of men which caused runners to enter in more events than they should and tired them out for all the events.

Some very good talent was found in Ray Teegardin in the dashes, Bill Barnes in the mile, and Dick Hogan in the hurdles. Ray, running his first year of track, surprised by taking both dashes in the Central Buckeye meet and then going to the district meet and winning both races there. Hogan, although he used very unorthodox form on the hurdles, took fourth in the district.

In the Central Buckeye Barnes took second in the mile, Hogan second in the high hurdles, and Sodt second in the lows.

The team as this was written had won two meets and lost one. They beat Canal Winchester and Circleville and lost to Westerville 87 to 45. Westerville was the team which won the Central Buckeye meet. Bexley ranked third.

GOLF, TENNIS, SWIMMING

BEXLEY'S swimming team was another of the well-balanced teams Bexley usually has. Krumm, swimming back stroke and breast stroke, was the outstanding star. Brownewell also comes in for some consideration. The team participated in three meets, of which they won two and lost one. They defeated University, 38 to 36, and beat the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home of Xenia, 43 to 32. They lost to Greenfield by one point.

The golf team, at the time of writing, had a record of three wins and two losses. Bill MacDonald played first man, Arnott second man, Burgett third, and Erlenbach fourth. They won from Aquinas, 9-3, lost to West, 7-5, beat North, $9\frac{1}{2}$-$2\frac{1}{2}$, defeated Circleville, $6\frac{1}{2}$-$5\frac{1}{2}$, and lost to Arlington, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$.

The team this year won the Central Buckeye Championship. This was the only Bexley team which won a championship.

The tennis team at the time of publication had played only one match and had won that from Canal Winchester. Young and Hogan won their singles matches, and Hamilton and Henceroth took the doubles.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB

THE Girls' Athletic Club enjoyed an especially active and interesting sports program this year. The girls held a swimming party and a hay-ride in the fall; later they sponsored a basketball game between the Varsity and alumnae. As a grand climax, at the end of the year, the Awards Banquet was given.

Inter-class and intramural tournaments in basketball and volley ball were played. A senior team captained by Louise Howell was victorious in the intramural basketball tournament, while Constance Bryant's senior volley ball team captured the laurels in the volley ball contest.

Bexley again joined with Grandview in sponsoring basketball and volley ball play days. Upper Arlington and University were the participating guests. Bexley also played host to the three schools mentioned above in a general play day of spring sports.

Louise Howell was voted by the members of the club the most prominent senior in athletics and club activities. She was presented with the Senior Cup by the G. A. C.

Letters were received by the following girls, who were successful in completing 500 points through participation in various sports: Grace Ebert, Dorothy Reeb, Kathryn Mayer, Mary Hayes, Florence Morrison, Alice Duddy, Evelyn Brenning, and Betty Whitehead.

The officers of the G. A. C. for the past year were: president, Elsie Schiefer; vice-president, Betty Whitehead; secretary, Grace Ebert; treasurer, Kathryn Mayer; social chairman, Virginia Harmon; senior adviser, Orleta Swackhamer.

ical world agog several months ago by his affiliation with Dr. A. R. Magnuson, prominent osteopath.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. Hamrick and regret that he cannot be with us today. Others who have tendered their regrets include Jack Lambrecht and Erwin Petzinger, who are on tour with the Minneapolis Symphony. Virginia Harmon, publicity agent for the symphony, has brought us their greetings, however.

A wire which brings salutations from Helen Fuller Miles, wife of the commander of the Hawaiian army post, has just reached our hands. Another resident from the class, who did manage, however, to get here today, is Eva Paul, missionary in Samostan. She's comparing notes with three other grads interested in religious work—the Reverend William Sodt, Fahn Silberstein of Chicago's Hull House, and Mooie Wong, director of the Church of All Nations in New York. They are defending home missions in which they are interested.

In this corner we have the James'—Gill and Feustel—of the furniture firm of the same name. Mr. Gill designed the portable pianos which are sweeping the country this spring. Feustel, we understand, is general manager of their plant.

Travers Nelson, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, tells us he has induced Gill and Feustel to locate their projected branch factory in Columbus.

George Rowe, an associate of Mr. Nelson's and president of the Young Men's Business Club, has just informed us that George Offenberg, prominent in mid-west amusement circles, has assumed the management of Valley Dale and plans to reopen it this fall.

Ruth Kalish, executive secretary to Mr. Offenberg, will design the interior which will be a silhouetted panorama of the city. She is here this afternoon with Elsie Schiefer, founder of the Schiefer Shorthand School.

We just received a signal from Harold Walker, technician at our studios, that our time is about exhausted. Before we sign off, we want to remind you that this account of the fifteenth anniversary celebration of the graduating class of Bexley High School has come to you through the facilities of WBEX, Columbus.
